

Did you know that participating in a structured mentoring program can earn you recertification credit?

Under the leadership category, you can earn up to 10 recertification credits through mentoring activities. This includes activities such as preparing an individual for the HR profession, teaching HR-related practicum or providing volunteer HR consulting services to assist with an individual or organizational need. Five recertification credits are earned for every year of service. Please note that mentoring activities must be independent of the workplace.

Mentoring is one of many activities in which you can earn recertification credits without accruing a large expense. To learn more about no-cost or low-cost activities that can earn you recertification credit, download our “Tips for Earning Credit Hours” flier.

You may also search for activities that fit your schedule and needs by visiting our Searchable Directory of Approved Events.

Please contact Michelle Hauer, SPHR, WI SHRM Certification Director, at Michelle.Hauer@gmail.com with questions or visit the HR Certification website at www.hrci.org/recertification.

1800 Duke Street Alexandria, Virginia
22314 USA
+1-866-898-4724 (US only) +1-703-548-3440 (Int'l)
www.hrci.org
